

Abstract of the Disclosure

It is an object of the present invention to provide a security system and security apparatus with excellent user-friendliness. A receiver 5 acquires the phone number of a cellular phone carried by a visitor, the transfer function unit 204 checks the phone number thus acquired against the phone number of an anticipated visitor to identify the visitor, and transfers the information to a personal digital assistant (PDA) unit to be redirected if the transfer is judged to be necessary.

09935667.082401